

Education Opportunity in the area of Information Assurance (2011-12)

<http://www.cse.buffalo.edu/caeiae/>

In 2008, UB received a four-year Federal Cyber Service Award from National Science Foundation to educate graduates and undergraduates in the area of Cyber Security and Information Assurance. Currently five students are in the program and in year 2011-12, we will admit up to two new graduate students and one undergraduate student into the program.

Federal Cyber Service: Scholarship for Service (SFS) Program at NSF

National Science Foundation started the Federal Cyber Service program about ten years ago as a means to increase the number of qualified students in the area of information assurance and computer security. The motivation was to build capacity in the U.S. higher education enterprise to deal with the shortage of skilled professionals in the IA and security fields at the various federal agencies. This is one of the high-profile programs started by NSF and during the past few years, universities took up the challenge and produced hundreds of scholars who are now working for the federal government. Through this award, UB will be in a position to contribute to this cause in the coming years.

What is covered by the Scholarship?

The scholarship covers two years of education in the BA/BS/MS/MBA programs with Information Assurance option. The following items will be covered.
